

Crew Team Information

The Feed2 Program receives several containers filled with food every year. We have a team in Haiti that receives, unloads, transports, and delivers this food year round. But they always appreciate help!

Currently, RMI runs two Feed2 work teams a year to assist in this laborious process. Trip dates are announced in our Newsletter and reservations can be made through our website.

A five day trip with RMI for a Feed2 work team is $625.

Trips are scheduled for arrival in Port-au-Prince, Haiti on Mondays and departures back to the US on Fridays.

The cost of travel from your US location into Port-au-Prince, and back, is not included in the trip price.

Once you land, we take over and the remainder of your trip, including transportation, lodging, and meals, are included in your In Country Costs". Travel insurance is also included during your time with us.

While we make every effort to focus our projects on the theme of the trip, travelers may also find tasks scheduled that may benefit our organization as a whole, including but not limited to, painting, well digging, goat delivery, etc. But rest assured, at the end of your trip, you will have a more tangible relationship with the Haitian people, and RMI's commitment to them.
